Year of the Champs

The 2025 South African Schools Choral Eisteddfod (SASCE) National Championships lived up to its rousing theme, “The Year of the Champs”, as choristers from across the country converged at Rhema Bible Church in Randburg, Johannesburg from 01–04 July.

Among them, the Northern Cape delegation made a remarkable impact, showcasing not only vocal excellence but also compositional brilliance and instrumental talent.

A total of 18 schools represented the Northern Cape, comprising 6 primary schools and 12 high schools.

These young musicians sang their hearts out on the national stage, proudly flying the provincial flag.

Umthombo Wolwazi Primary School earned 3rd place in the Chamber Choir (Small and Farm Schools) category and again secured 3rd place in the SATB Chamber Choir category.

- Reitlamile High School brought home 2nd place in the highly competitive Female Choir category.
- Baitiredi Technical School also brought home 2nd place in the vibrant Folklore category, which addresses social ills through song and performance.

- Mr. O.G. Modutwane, conductor of the choir that secured 2nd place, received a special honour: his original composition, “Nkamogele Morena”, has been selected as a prescribed piece for the 2026 SASCE competitions in the Small and Farm Schools category.
- Renowned composer and educator Mr. K. Diradingwe also saw two of his works chosen for next year’s programme:
 - “We Shall Rejoice” – a Western piece for the Secondary B category.
 - “Kgarakgatsego” – a soprano composition also for Secondary B schools.

The standard of this year’s competition was raised even higher with a distinguished panel of adjudicators. Among them was internationally acclaimed opera baritone Thesele Kemane, who is also from the Northern Cape adjudication team.

The Northern Cape learners were not alone in their journey. Lending strong support from the stands at Rhema Bible Church were:

MEC for Education, Mr. Abraham Vosloo, Chief Director for School Management, Administration and Support, Mr. Sandile Beuzana, the Director Mrs. Poppie Mlambo and Mr. Tumelo Mpolokeng from the John Taolo Gaetsewe (JTG)

Developmental Trust.

Health leaders and community representatives collaborated on strategies to strengthen governance and improve healthcare delivery.

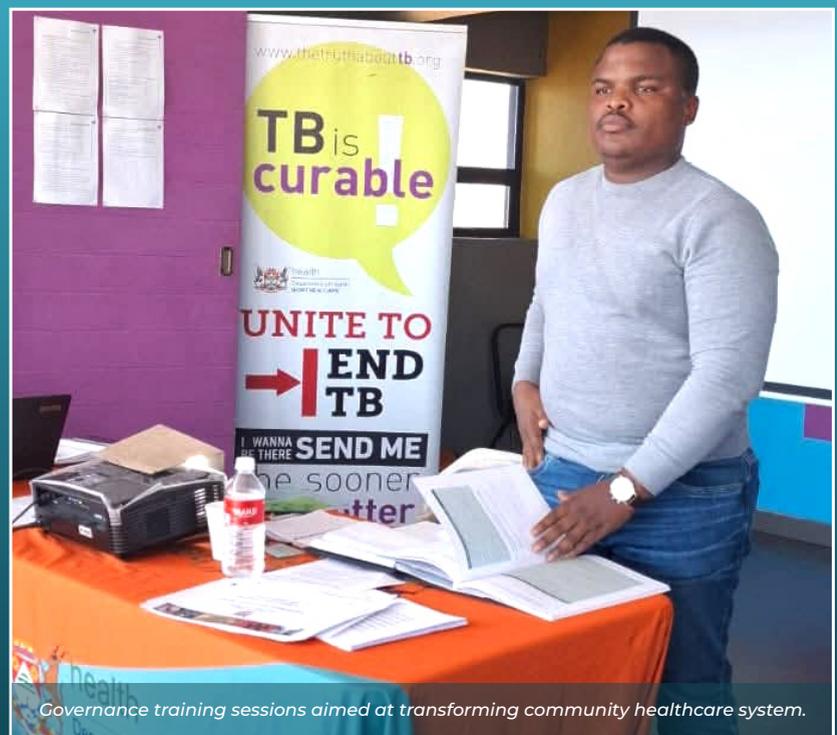

From 1–2 July 2025, the Northern Cape Department of Health hosted a Training of Governance Structures in Kheis Municipality, Groblershoop (ZF Mgcawu District), continuing its province-wide effort to empower and strengthen clinic committees.

Clinic committees are the cornerstone of community participation in health, driving transparency, accountability, and ensuring a direct community voice in shaping healthcare delivery. These structures foster local ownership and bolster the Primary Health Care system from the grassroots level.

This training builds on previous initiatives in Tsantsabane, Emthanjeni, Hantam, Joe Morolong, and other municipalities. These are part of a sustained effort over the past year to strengthen governance at the facility level and create a responsive, people-centred health system.

This aligns with broader provincial goals. Over 1,200 community governance members have been appointed across 223 health facilities, representing around 1.3 million residents, all of whom have received orientation and training.

STRENGTHENING LEADERSHIP, ENHANCING HEALTHCARE

Governance training sessions aimed at transforming community healthcare system.

In addition, commitments made in February 2025 included staffing the Groblershoop Community Health Centre for 24-hour operations and improving emergency services.

Together, these actions illustrate our shared vision: building a health system that listens, learns, and leads, with community voices at its core.
